2. TPM Italy

From July 4th to 5th, 2023, partners reunited in the beautiful city of Potenza, Italy, for a highly productive Transnational Partner Meeting. The success of this meeting can be attributed to the dedication and commitment of the partners, allowing for comprehensive discussions on project topics and advancements. Leaving the meeting with elevated confidence levels, the partnership holds a genuine belief in the immense potential of the project. As we approach the project's later stages, the cumulative efforts of the past two years are becoming evident, and all partners share a collective optimism for a successful conclusion!

The objective of this fourth newsletter of the Rural Jump-Start project is to provide an update on the project's progress, highlight recent meetings and future achievements.

3- What's to come?

With all PR phases now successfully completed, the project strides confidently into one of its most important phases—the Piloting phase. This stage not only provides to the partnership an opportunity to showcase the incredible work accomplished over the past two years but also represents a critical juncture in the project's trajectory. It allows the consortium to compile stakeholder perspectives on the work that was done and to assess its tangible impact. Starting with the upload of the online platform, the Piloting phase will unfold dynamically as stakeholders progressively register on the platform. This, in turn, will provide the consortium with some important benchmarks, offering insight into the project's impact.

Imminently approaching are also the Multiplier events, where we will have the opportunity to present the project to the stakeholders in each partner country. We anticipate these events as truly remarkable occasions, carrying substantial importance in shaping the project's final stages.
